RORY FARMS*"Jelly Doughnuts" Rosin

Jelly Doughnuts from Rory Farms is a wild mix of sweet and savory, blending Strawberry Banana with the funky edge of Shallot Sushimi. The aroma comes through with creamy berry and an odd yet addictive depth that hints at overripe fruit and a whisper of spice. It starts off like a glazed dessert but unfolds into something gassy and complex. The high follows suit, bright and heady up top with a smooth, laid-back finish. This isn't your typical candy-forward drop, and that's exactly the point. For those chasing flavor that pushes boundaries, Jelly Doughnuts brings something different to the table. @roryfarms

HAZY HILL*"Headband" Rosin

When you think of OGs in Maine, Hazy Hill is at the top of that list. Presented like a fine piece of jewelry, I opened the jar to what can only be described as smelling the headiest bouquet of flowers. When I jump into a Headband, I always try to look for that Headband feeling that is commonly associated with the strain, and this jar did not disappoint. With the nose translating well to the taste, reminding me of a nice iced herbal tea, the dab gave me that bobblehead effect. Perfect for a relaxing night vibing to your favorite playlist.
